Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of Fiba Faktoring Anonim Şirketi

A) Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Fiba Faktoring Anonim Şirketi ("the Company") which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2022 and the statement of profit or loss, statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in shareholders' equity, statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Fiba Faktoring A.Ş. as at 31 December 2022, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the Regulation on Accounting Practices and Financial Statements of Financial Leasing, Factoring and Financing Companies and Communiqué on Uniform Chart of Accounts and Prospectus to be implemented by Financial Leasing, Factoring and Financing Companies published in the Official Gazette dated 24 December 2013 and numbered 28861, other regulations, communiqués and circulars published by the Banking Regulation and Supervision Board ("BRSA") and the pronouncements made by the Banking Regulation and Supervision Agency and requirements of Turkish Accounting Standards for the matters not regulated by the aforementioned legislations together "the BRSA Accounting and Financial Reporting Legislation".

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Standards on Auditing which is a component of the Turkish Auditing Standards published by the Public Oversight Accounting and Auditing Standards Authority ("POA") ("Standards on Auditing issued by POA"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We declare that we are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Auditors issued by POA ("POA's Code of Ethics") and the ethical requirements in the regulations issued by POA that are relevant to audit of financial statements, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the POA's Code of Ethics and regulations. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Impairment of factoring receivables

Please refer to Note 2.5 (a) for the details of the accounting policies regarding the impairment of the receivables from factoring operations and the significant accounting estimates and assumptions used.

Key Audit Matter	How the matter is addressed in our audit
As of December 31, 2022, the Company's factoring receivables constitute 83% of its total assets. The company accounts for its factoring receivables and provisions for impairment in accordance with the BRSA Accounting and Financial Reporting Legislation. Classification of receivables is made by taking into account the criteria specified in the Regulation. Within the scope of the Regulation, determination of the impairment of factoring receivables depends primarily on whether the classification of these receivables is made correctly. Among the criteria used for classification are non-judgmental determinations, as well as criteria that require determinations based on management judgment. There is a risk that the factoring receivables are impaired due to the criteria that require making decisions based on the aforementioned judgment and therefore the provision for impairment will not be determined. Due to these risks, the impairment of factoring receivables has been identified as a key audit matter.	Our audit procedures in this area include the following: The design and operating effectiveness of the controls established for credit allocation, disbursement, collection, follow-up and impairment processes were evaluated. Audit studies have focused on the determination of factoring receivables that are impaired, the compliance of the depreciation provisions with the BRSA Accounting and Financial Reporting Legislation, the value of the collaterals and the collection capability of the Company. In addition, the adequacy of the explanations made in the footnotes of the financial statements regarding the provision for impairment of factoring receivables was evaluated.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the "BRSA Accounting and Financial Reporting Legislation", and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Standards on Auditing issued by POA will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. As part of an audit in accordance with Standards on Auditing issued by POA and BRSA, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Bank's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

B) Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

1) Pursuant to the fourth paragraph of Article 402 of the Turkish Commercial Code numbered 6102 ("TCC"); no significant matter has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the Company's bookkeeping order for the period 1 January- 31 December 2022 are not in compliance with TCC and provisions of the Company's articles of association in relation to financial reporting.

2) Pursuant to the fourth paragraph of Article 402 of the TCC; The Board of Directors provided us the required explanations and requested documents within the scope of the audit.

TFRS includes Turkish Accounting Standards (“TAS”), Turkish Financial Reporting Standards (“TFRS”), TAS comments and TFRS comments published by POA.

(Amounts are expressed in Turkish Lira (thousands of “TL”) unless otherwise indicated.)

2.1 Basis of Presentation

2.1.4 Preparation of Financial Statements in Hyperinflationary Periods

Restatement adjustments have been made to compensate for the effect of changes in the general purchasing power of the Turkish Lira, in accordance with Turkish Accounting Standards on “Preparation of Financial Statements in Hyperinflationary Periods” (“TAS 29”) for the financial statements prepared until 31 December 2004. BRSA issued a circular on 28 April 2005 stating that the indicators requiring the application of inflation accounting ceased to exist; consequently, inflation accounting was not applied in the financial statements after 1 January 2005.

TAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflation Economies requires entities whose functional currency is that of a hyperinflationary economy to prepare their financial statements in terms of the measuring unit current at the end of the reporting period. TAS 29 describes characteristics that may indicate that an economy is hyperinflationary, and it requires all entities that report in the currency of the same hyperinflationary economy apply this Standard from the same date. Therefore, it is expected that TAS 29 will start to be applied simultaneously by all entities with the announcement of Public Oversight Accounting and Auditing Standards Authority to ensure consistency of the application required by TAS 29 throughout the country. However, the Authority has not published any announcement that determines entities would restate their financial statements for the accounting period ending on 31 December 2022 in accordance with TAS 29. In this context, TMS 29 is not applied and inflation adjustment has not been reflected in the financial statements as of December 21, 2022.

2.1.5 Offsetting

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet when there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

2.2 Changes in Accounting Policies

Significant changes in accounting policies are applied retrospectively and the financial statements of the previous period are rearranged. The company applied its accounting policies consistently with the previous fiscal year. The accounting policies used in the preparation of the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2022 were applied consistently with the financial statements prepared as of December 31, 2021. Significant changes in accounting policies are applied retrospectively and the financial statements of the previous period are rearranged. There is no change in accounting policies in the current period.

(Amounts are expressed in Turkish Lira (thousands of “TL”) unless otherwise indicated.)

2.3 Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors

If the changes in accounting estimates relate to only one period, changes are applied in the current period but if changes in estimates relate to future periods, changes are applied both in the current and following periods prospectively. Material prior period errors are corrected retrospectively, and prior period financial statements are restated. There is no significant change in the accounting estimates of the company in the current period.

Preparation of financial statements in accordance with Reporting Standards requires the management to implement policies and to make decisions, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported asset, liability, income and expense amounts. Actual results may differ from those estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed constantly. The effect of a change in accounting estimates is recognized prospectively in the current and future periods. The main notes for the items including estimates are as follows:

- Note 4 – Derivative financial assets
- Note 5 – Derivative financial liabilities
- Note 6 – Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income
- Note 8 – Tangible assets
- Note 9 – Intangible assets
- Note 11 – Tax assets and liabilities
- Note 16 – Provisions

2.4 New and Revised Accounting Standards Turkey

The accounting policies adopted in preparation of the financial statements as at December 31, 2022 are consistent with those of the previous financial year, except for the adoption of new and amended TFRS and TFRS interpretations effective as of January 1, 2022 and thereafter. The effects of these standards and interpretations on the Company’s financial position and performance have been disclosed in the related paragraphs.

i) The new standards, amendments and comments which are effective as at January 1, 2022 are as follows

Amendments to TFRS 3 – Reference to the Conceptual Framework

In July 2020, the POA issued amendments to TFRS 3 Business combinations. The amendments are intended to replace to a reference to a previous version of the Conceptual Framework (the 1989 Framework) with a reference to the current version issued in March 2018 (the Conceptual Framework) without significantly changing requirements of TFRS 3. At the same time, the amendments add a new paragraph to TFRS 3 to clarify that contingent assets do not qualify for recognition at the acquisition date. The amendments issued to TFRS 3 must be applied prospectively. The amendments did not have a significant impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

Amendments to TAS 16 – Proceeds before intended use:

In July 2020, the POA issued amendments to TAS 16 Property, plant and equipment. The amendment prohibits entities from deducting from the cost of an item of property, plant and equipment (PP&E), any proceeds of the sale of items produced while bringing that asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. Instead, an entity recognizes the proceeds from selling such items, and costs of producing those items, in profit or loss. Amendments must be applied retrospectively only to items of PP&E made available for use on or after beginning of the earliest period presented when the entity first applies the amendment. The amendments did not have a significant impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

Amendments to TAS 37 – Onerous contracts – Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

In July 2020, POA issued amendments to TAS 37 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent assets. The amendments specify which costs an entity needs to include when assessing whether a contract is onerous or loss-making and also apply a “directly related cost approach”. Amendments must be applied prospectively to contracts for which an entity has not fulfilled all of its obligations at the beginning of the annual reporting period in which it first applies the amendments (the date of initial application). The amendments did not have a significant impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

Annual Improvements – 2018–2020 Cycle

Improvements to TFRS standards / 2018-2020 Period was published by the POA in July 2020, with the following changes at the below:

TFRS 1 First-time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards– Associate as First Implementer: The amendment permits a subsidiary to measure cumulative translation differences using the amounts reported by the parent. The amendment is also applied to an associate or joint venture.

TFRS 9 Financial Instruments - Fees taken into account in the 10% test for derecognition of financial liabilities: The amendment clarifies the fees that an entity includes when assessing whether the terms of a new or modified financial liability are substantially different from the terms of the original financial liability. These fees include only those paid or received between the borrower and the lender, including fees paid or received by either borrower or lender on the other’s behalf.

TAS 41 Agricultural Activities – Taxes in determining fair value: : The amendment removes the requirement in paragraph 22 of TAS 41 that entities exclude cash flows for taxation when measuring fair value of assets within the scope of TAS 41. The amendments did not have a significant impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

Standards, interpretations and amendments to existing standards that are issued but not yet effective up to the date of issuance of the financial statements are as follows. The Company will make the necessary changes if not indicated otherwise, which will be affecting financial statements and disclosures, when the new standards and interpretations become effective.

Amendments to TFRS 10 and TAS 28: Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture

In December 2017, POA postponed the effective date of this amendment indefinitely pending the outcome of its research project on the equity method of accounting. Early application of the amendments is still permitted. The Company will wait until the final amendment to assess the impacts of the changes.

Amendments to TAS 1- Classification of Liabilities as Current and Non-Current Liabilities

In January 2020 and January 2023, POA issued amendments to TAS 1 to specify the requirements for classifying liabilities as current or non-current. According to the amendments made in January 2023 if an entity’s right to defer settlement of a liability is subject to the entity complying with the required covenants at a date subsequent to the reporting period (“future covenants”), the entity has a right to defer settlement of the liability even if it does not comply with those covenants at the end of the reporting period. In addition, January 2023 amendments require an entity to provide disclosure when a liability arising from a loan agreement is classified as non-current and the entity’s right to defer settlement is contingent on compliance with future covenants within twelve months. This disclosure must include information about the covenants and the related liabilities. The amendments clarified that the classification of a liability is unaffected by the likelihood that the entity will exercise its right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period. The amendments are effective for periods beginning on or after 1 January 2024. The amendments must be applied retrospectively in accordance with TAS 8. Early application is permitted. However, an entity that applies the 2020 amendments early is also required to apply the 2023 amendments, and vice versa. The amendments are not applicable for the Company and will not have an impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

Amendments to TAS 8 - Definition of Accounting Estimates

In August 2021, POA issued amendments to TAS 8, in which it introduces a new definition of ‘accounting estimates’. The amendments issued to TAS 8 are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. The amendments clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates and changes in accounting policies and the correction of errors. Also, the amended standard clarifies that the effects on an accounting estimate of a change in an input or a change in a measurement technique are changes in accounting estimates if they do not result from the correction of prior period errors. The previous definition of a change in accounting estimate specified that changes in accounting estimates may result from new information or new developments. Therefore, such changes are not corrections of errors. This aspect of the definition was retained by the POA. The amendments apply to changes in accounting policies and changes in accounting estimates that occur on or after the start of the effective date. Earlier application is permitted. The Company is in the process of assessing the impact of the amendments on financial position or performance of the Company.

Amendments to TAS 1 - Disclosure of Accounting Policies

In August 2021, the POA issued amendments to TAS 1, in which it provides guidance and examples to help entities apply materiality judgements to accounting policy disclosures. The amendments issued to TAS 1 are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. In the absence of a definition of the term ‘significant’ in TFRS, the POA decided to replace it with ‘material’ in the context of disclosing accounting policy information. ‘Material’ is a defined term in TFRS and is widely understood by the users of financial statements, according to the POA. In assessing the materiality of accounting policy information, entities need to consider both the size of the transactions, other events or conditions and the nature of them. Examples of circumstances in which an entity is likely to consider accounting policy information to be material have been added.

The amendments are not applicable for the Company and will not have an impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

TAS 12 Amendments – Deferred tax on assets and liabilities arising from a single transaction

In August 2021, POA issued amendments to TAS 12, which narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception under TAS 12, so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences. The amendments issued to TAS 12 are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. The amendments clarify that where payments that settle a liability are deductible for tax purposes, it is a matter of judgement (having considered the applicable tax law) whether such deductions are attributable for tax purposes to the liability recognised in the financial statements (and interest expense) or to the related asset component (and interest expense). This judgement is important in determining whether any temporary differences exist on initial recognition of the asset and liability. The amendments apply to transactions that occur on or after the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. In addition, at the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented, a deferred tax asset (provided that sufficient taxable profit is available) and a deferred tax liability for all deductible and taxable temporary differences associated with leases and decommissioning obligations should be recognized. Overall, the Company Group expects no significant impact on its balance sheet and equity.

TFRS 16 Amendments – Lease liabilities on sale and leaseback transactions

In January 2023, POA issued amendments to TFRS 16. The amendments specify the requirements that a seller-lessee uses in measuring the lease liability arising in a sale and leaseback transaction, to ensure the seller-lessee does not recognise any amount of the gain or loss that relates to the right of use it retains. In applying requirements of TFRS 16 under “Subsequent measurement of the lease liability” heading after the commencement date in a sale and leaseback transaction, the seller lessee determines ‘lease payments’ or ‘revised lease payments’ in such a way that the seller-lessee would not recognise any amount of the gain or loss that relates to the right of use retained by the seller-lessee. The amendments do not prescribe specific measurement requirements for lease liabilities arising from a leaseback. The initial measurement of the lease liability arising from a leaseback may result in a seller-lessee determining ‘lease payments’ that are different from the general definition of lease payments in TFRS 16. The seller-lessee will need to develop and apply an accounting policy that results in information that is relevant and reliable in accordance with TAS 8. A seller-lessee applies the amendments to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2024. Earlier application is permitted. A seller-lessee applies the amendments retrospectively in accordance with TAS 8 to sale and leaseback transactions entered into after the date of initial application of TFRS 16. The amendments are not applicable for the Company and will not have an impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

2.5 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Financial Instruments

(i) Financial Assets

A financial asset is an asset that is cash, an equity instrument of another entity, a contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset from another entity; or to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another entity under conditions that are potentially favorable to the entity. Financial assets are classified into three categories; financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, and financial assets at amortized cost. Classification of the financial asset depending on the purpose and nature of the asset, it is determined at initial recognition.

1) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets managed with a business model other than a business model aimed at holding contractual cash flows to collect and selling contractual cash flows, and contractual terms related to financial assets, does not result in cash flows that only include principal and interest payments on the principal balance on specified dates; are financial assets that are acquired to profit from fluctuations in prices and similar factors in the short-term in the market, or that are part of a portfolio aimed at making a profit in the short-term, regardless of the reason for their acquisition. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recorded with their fair values and are then valued with their fair values. Gains and losses resulting from the valuation are included in the profit/loss accounts. Financial assets that constitute derivative products that have not been determined as an effective hedging instrument against financial risk are also classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. Related financial assets are shown with their fair values, and the gains and losses resulting from the valuation are accounted for in the profit or loss statement.

2) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Equity instruments and some debt securities held by the Company are classified as financial assets which are presented fair value through other comprehensive income. Gains and losses arising from changes in fair value are accounted for in other comprehensive income and financial assets which are recognized in the revaluation fund, excluding impairments recorded in the profit or loss statement of debt securities classified in this category that calculated using the effective interest method, and foreign exchange gains and losses on monetary assets is accumulated. If the investment is disposed of or impaired, the total profit/loss accumulated in the revaluation fund is classified into the profit or loss statement. At initial recognition entity may irrevocably choose to present subsequent changes in an equity instrument of the fair value of an investment that is not held for trading in other comprehensive income. If this preference is made, dividends from the investment are recognized as profit or loss. The relevant fair value differences recognized in the other comprehensive income statement are not transferred to profit or loss in the following periods but transferred to previous years' profit/loss. Dividends from such investments are recognized as profit or loss unless they clearly constitute a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Equity instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income are not subject to impairment calculation.

2) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (continued)

Within the scope of TFRS 9, all investments in equity instruments and contracts related to these financial instruments should be measured at their fair values. However, in some exceptional circumstances, the cost may be an appropriate estimation method for determining fair value.

3) Financial assets at amortized cost

In addition to financial assets within a business model that aims to hold to collect contractual cash flows and aims to hold to sell, financial asset with contractual terms that lead to cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest at certain dates, they are classified as financial assets at amortized cost. Financial assets measured at amortized cost are initially recognized at acquisition cost including the transaction costs which reflect the fair value of those instruments and subsequently recognized at amortized cost by using internal rate of return. Interest income obtained from financial assets measured at amortized cost is accounted in statement of profit or loss.

(ii) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are comprised of cash, bank deposits with maturity periods of less than three-months. Cash equivalents are convertible to cash and correspond short-term highly liquid investments with maturities less than three-months and which have no risk of impairment.

(iii) Factoring receivables

Factoring receivables and payables are recorded at their fair values with netting of transaction costs. In the periods of registration, they are shown with the costs discounted using the effective interest rate method.

The total factoring receivables provision determined as a result of the evaluation of factoring receivables is determined in a way to cover the doubtful receivables in the Company's factoring receivables portfolio. The Company reserves the relevant provision in accordance with the provisions of "Financial Leasing, Factoring and Financing Companies' Accounting Practices and Financial Tables (" Regulation ") published in the Official Gazette dated December 24, 2013 and numbered 28861 by the BRSA. According to the relevant regulation, at least 20% after taking into account the collaterals of factoring receivables delayed between 90-180 days from the due date, at least 50% after the collaterals of factoring receivables delayed between 180-360 days from the due date of collection and After taking into account the guarantees of factoring receivables delayed more than 1 year from the date of maturity, 100% specific provision is provided.

According to the relevant regulation, even if the delay in the collection of the receivables has not exceeded the above periods or there is no delay in the collection of the receivables, the company can reserve specific provisions at the rates it determines, taking into account the reliability and prudence principles of all available data on the credit worthiness of the debtor, without including the collateral amount in the calculation.

In the Regulation, it is stated that companies can make provision in general and without being directly related to any transaction, in order to cover the losses expected to arise from the receivables with no delay in the collection of the principal, interest or both or with a delay of less than ninety days, but not directly related to any transaction, but it is not considered as a requirement. The company can set aside general provisions within this scope for factoring receivables that do not become doubtful.

The cancellation of the receivable occurs when it is predicted that all or part of the receivable will not be collected or if the customer is attached to the insolvency document. With the deletion of the receivable, the previously reserved provision is reversed and the entire receivable is deducted from the asset. In case of collection of a receivable that was deleted in previous periods, the relevant amounts are recorded as income.

In factoring receivables, with the decision numbered 8950 of the BRSA dated 19 March 2020, the follow-up periods were increased from 90 days to a minimum of 180 days to be valid until 31 December 2020, this rule continued until 30 June 2021 with the BRSA's decision number 9312 dated 8 December 2020.

According to the “Regulation On Amendments Related To Regulations On Establishment and Operation Principles Of Financial Leasing, Factoring and Financing Companies” that was issued on 2 May 2018 by BRSA, factoring, leasing and finance companies have not applied TFRS 9. In this context, the Company continues to apply the current legislation.

Buildings	50 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 years
Vehicles	5 years

Leasehold improvements are amortized with the shorter of the periods of the respective leases or useful lives on a straight-line depreciation basis.

(c) *Intangible assets

Intangible assets consist of computer software licenses. (d) *TFRS 16 Leasings

The company has started to apply the TFRS 16 Leases standard as of January 1, 2019. TFRS 16 introduced a single lease accounting model for lessees. As a result, the Company as a lessee recognized the right-of-use asset representing the right to use the underlying asset and the lease liabilities representing the lease payments that it is obligated to pay rent in its financial statements.

Definition of leasing

Previously, the Company decided whether a contract includes a lease at the beginning of the contract, according to TFRS Interpretation 4 “Determining whether an Agreement includes a lease”, but the Company now evaluates whether a contract includes a lease based on the new definition of a lease. By TFRS 16, if the right to control the use of the asset defined in a contract is transferred for a specified period, that contract is or includes a lease.

In the transition to TFRS 16, the Company has chosen to apply the old form to be defined as a lease, using the facilitating application regarding which transactions are classified as leases.

Therefore, it has applied TFRS 16 only to contracts previously defined as lease contracts. According to TAS 17 and TFRS Interpretation 4, contracts that do not contain a lease have not been reassessed whether they contain a lease. Therefore, the definition of a lease under TFRS 16 is only applied to contracts entered into or modified on or after 1 January 2019.

The Company had allocated to each lease and non-lease component based on its relative stand-alone price at reassessment or contract inception of a contract that includes a lease component. However, for properties of which it is a lessee, the Company has chosen not to separate the non-lease components and to account for the non-lease and non-lease components as a single lease component.

As a Tenant

The company leases real estate and vehicle assets. By TFRS 16, right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for leases are included in the financial statements, in other words, these lease transactions are presented in the financial statement.

The Company has chosen not to reflect right-of-use assets and lease liabilities in its financial statements for real estate and vehicle rentals with a lease term of 12 months or less. The Company has reflected these leases as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Company has presented its lease obligations under the heading of “Leasing Payables (net)” in the financial statement.

The company records the right-of-use asset and the lease liability on the financial statements at the actual commencement date of the lease. The right-of-use asset is measured initially at cost and subsequently at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses and adjusted for remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost and after the lease commences, it is measured at fair value by the Company's accounting policies.

At the commencement date of the lease, the lease liability is measured at the present value of the lease payments which not paid at that date. Lease payments are discounted using the Company's alternative borrowing interest rate if the implied interest rate in the lease can be easily determined. Generally, the Company used the alternative borrowing interest rate as the discount rate.

After the commencement date of the lease, the lessee increases the carrying amount of the lease liability to reflect the interest on the lease liability and decreases the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made. It is remeasured in the event of a change in the lease term and in the assessment of the option to purchase the asset, and in the event of a change in the amounts expected to be paid under the residual value commitment, and in the event of a change in these payments as a result of a change in the index or rate.

The company has used its judgment to determine the lease term for some leases that include renewal options. Evaluating whether the Company is reasonably confident to exercise such options affects the lease term; therefore, this matter significantly affects the amounts of lease liabilities and right-of-use assets recognized.

On 5 June 2020, POA made changes to the TFRS 16 “Leases” standard by publishing the Concessions Granted in Lease Payments - “Amendments to TFRS 16 Leases” related to COVID-19. With this change, tenants are exempted from assessing whether the concessions granted due to COVID-19 in rent payments have changed or not. Although, The change did not have a significant impact on the financial position or performance of the Company.

(e) Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation, including property under construction for such purposes. Investment properties are measured initially at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment if any.

When the use of property changes such that it is reclassified as machinery, plant, and equipment, its fair value at the date of reclassification becomes its cost for subsequent accounting.

If the property becomes an investment property, the Company accounts for such property up to the date of change in use by the policy specified under tangible assets.

Investment properties are derecognized if they are sold or become unusable and it is determined that no future economic benefits will be derived from their sale. Profit/loss arising from the completion of the useful life or sale of the investment property is included in the profit or loss statement in the period it occurs.

Transfers are made when there is a change in the use of investment property. For a transfer from an investment property followed on a fair value basis to an owner-occupied property, the estimated cost in post-transfer recognition is the fair value of the property at the date of the use change. If an owner occupied property converts to an investment property to be presented on a fair value basis, the entity applies the accounting policy applied to Tangible Assets up to the date of the use change.

(f) Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company’s non-financial assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset’s recoverable amount is estimated.

An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or its cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. A cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable asset group that generates cash flows that largely are independent from other assets and groups. Impairment losses are recognised in the income statement. The impairment loss recognized in the context of cash generating units is initially deducted from the carrying value of goodwill allocated to the units and then from the carrying value of other assets in the unit (unit group).

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Impairment losses recognised in prior years are assessed at each reporting date for any indications that the loss has decreased or no longer exists. An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset’s carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

It is calculated on accrual basis when it is earned by the employees and recognized on financial statements. The Company management has evaluated the effect of actuarial gains/losses on current financial statements concerning the calculation of retirement pay liability and has recognized the after-tax amount in profit or loss as it is below the materiality level.

In case of a material effect of time value of money, the provision amount is determined as the present value of the cash outflows required to meet the liability. In order to determine the discount rate that is used to reduce the provision to present values, interest rate in the related markets and risk related to the liability is taken into consideration.

Losses can be carried forward for offset against future taxable income for up to 5 years. However, losses cannot be carried back for offset against profits from previous periods.

Dividend earnings of corporations from participation in the capital of another fully liable corporation (except for participation certificates of mutual funds and dividends obtained from shares of investment partnerships) are exempt from corporate tax. In addition, 75% of the profits arising from the sale of the participation shares in the assets of the corporations for at least two full years and the founder's shares, the usufruct shares, and the pre-emptive rights of the real estates (immovables) owned for the same period, are exempt from corporate tax as of 31 December 2017. However, with the amendment made with Law No. 7061, this rate has been reduced from 75% to 50% in terms of immovables and this rate is used as 50% in tax returns to be prepared as of 2018. To benefit from the exemption, the said income must be kept in a passive fund account and not withdrawn from the business for 5 years. The sales price must be collected until the end of the second calendar year following the year of sale. In Turkey, there is no practice of reaching an agreement with the tax administration regarding the taxes to be paid. Corporate tax returns are submitted within four months following the end of the accounting period. The tax inspection authorities may examine the tax returns and the accounting records underlying them during the five years following the accounting period and make a reassessment as a result of their findings.

Within the scope of repetitive article 298 of the Tax Procedure Law, it has been decided that the financial statements will be subject to inflation adjustment because the increase in the producer price index is more than 100% in the last 3 accounting periods, including the current period, and more than 10% in the current accounting period. As of December 2021, these conditions have been fulfilled. However, with Law No. 7352 on the Amendment of the Tax Procedure Law and the Corporate Tax Law, published in the Official Gazette dated 29 January 2022 and numbered 31734, the temporary article 33 was added to the Tax Procedure Law No. 213, including the provisional tax periods. Financial statements will not be subject to an inflation adjustment for the 2021 and 2022 accounting periods (for those designated as a special accounting period, as of the accounting periods ending in 2022 and 2023) and the provisional tax periods for the 2023 accounting period, regardless of whether the conditions for the repetitive inflation adjustment within the scope of Article 298 are met, It has been enacted that the 2023 financial statements will be subject to inflation adjustment regardless of whether the conditions for the inflation adjustment are met, and the profit/loss differences arising from the inflation adjustment to be made will be shown in the previous years' profit/loss account.

The fair value of financial instruments

The estimated fair values of financial instruments determined by the Company using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies. However, judgement is necessarily required to interpret market data to develop the estimated fair value. The carrying amounts of the bank receivables, other financial assets, short-term bank loans denominated in TL and securities issued which are carried at cost value discounted with effective interest rates are considered to be approximating their fair values by the Company management, due to their short-term nature (excluding long-term portions), considering probable losses to be immaterial.
